GERMAN DRIVE MAY FORCE SWISS IN WAR

Two maps which illustrate the peril Switzerland faces of being drawn into the war. That at the top shows the little angle of Swiss territory between Basel and Lorraine which juts into German soil across the Rhine, thus giving Germany an excellent excuse for an invasion of Swiss soil to protect the southern flank of its battle line (shown by the shaded line) when it is thrown back to the Rhine by the allies. The larger map shows how Germany could then extend the battle line across Switzerland, joining it with that in Italy, to block an allied enveloping movement.

"BROWN OF HARVARD" AT THE ALTA TODAY

Hazel Daly and Tom Moore Co-Stars in "Brown of Harvard," the sensational stage success built on life at the great Cambridge College. It is now on the screen. It will be shown at the Alta theatre, today.

Hazel Daly, who created the role of Honey in "Skinner's Dress Suit" and subsequent Skinner pictures, co-stars with Tom Moore in the celluloid version, which was produced by William N. Selig.

Besides being a brother-in-law to the "world's sweetheart," Mr. Moore has won fame as an interpreter of cinema dramas in many film successes. One of the most recent was "The Cinderella Man," in which he played opposite Mae Marsh.

Sydney Ainsworth is cast in the heavy role. His portrayal of Strickland, the accused one of the best bits of intensely emotional acting ever seen on the screen.

Many other well-known photo-players are in the cast.

The story of "Brown of Harvard" of which Henry Woodruff was the speaking stage star, is as follows:

Tom Brown, a rich student at Harvard, loves Evelyn Ames so truly that, in order to shield her from her brother, Wilton, who has become involved with Marion Thorne, he accepts the blame himself. Unaware of the truth, Evelyn renounces him.

Marion's brother Gerald, stroke oar in Harvard's boat crew, openly accuses Tom. Wilton becomes desperate and forges Tom's name to a check for $500 to send the girl away from Cambridge. Victor Colton, an unscrupulous gambler, discovers his plight and forces the youth to enter a plot with him to defeat Harvard in the Yale-Harvard boat race.

They forge Marion's name to a note saying she is in dire distress and send it to Gerald just as the race is about to start. He refuses to row and rushes home. There he finds Marion, with the check bearing Tom's forged signature, preparing to leave Cambridge. Snatching up a revolver he runs back to the boathouse, determined to shoot Tom as his sister's despoiler.

In the meantime, Tom as substitute stroke oar, has replaced Thorne in the shell and won the race for Harvard. He is being cheered by the throng as Gerald appears, brandishing his weapon. How Evelyn steps in to save Tom's life and Wilton finally confesses, bringing happiness to all, is well and consistently worked out.

Owing to the film version's unlimited field for detail, particularly in showing the boat race and other big scenes, it is reported to provide better entertainment than did the stage production.

BASEBALL PLAYERS HAVE MORE TIME

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Professional baseball players were given until September 1 to seek essential employment or be called to the colors in an order issued by Secretary Baker. The secretary said the extension was made because of the representation that players may have been put in a less favorable attitude than others affected because of their reliance on his statement that the order would not be decided until a case had arisen. He made it plain that the war department is interested solely in the strengthening of the military forces.

Provost Marshal-General Crowder, Mr. Baker said, had reported it was not clear the game would have to be discontinued, even if the order were made immediately applicable, as only 227 major league players would be affected.

SWEATERS KNITTED BY SHIP CAPTAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Captain J. C. Hunter, 78 years old and commander of one of the steamers operating between Seattle and Alaska ports, knitted sweaters for Uncle Sam's soldiers while on the bridge of his ship.

According to E. G. McMicken, general passenger agent of the Pacific Steamship Company, who has just returned from Seattle, hundreds of native women in Alaska have watched Hunter fashion a woolen garment and are now working industriously.

AIRMEN BLOW UP KAISER'S NEW LOCKS

AMSTERDAM, July 30.—Repairs which Germans made to the mole and locks at Zeebrugge have again been destroyed by allied airmen, according to the Telegraph. "Two torpedo boats have been sunk in the harbor, it adds, and the canal remains closed. The German observation tower at Lissewege was also hit by the airmen."

Many casualties among the machines at this naval base and among the men have been reported, but thousands of men have been forced to work in the neighborhood and on the mole.

IRELAND FURNISHES ENGLAND WITH FOOD

DUBLIN, July 30.—Ireland sends more food to Great Britain than is retained for home consumption, according to the Irish Department of Agriculture. Prior to the war, Ireland sent more food to England than any other country except the United States. In 1917 the shipments from Ireland were valued at $59,000,000.

Doctor—What? Troubled with sleeplessness? Eat something before going to bed.

Doctor (with dignity)—Pooch, pooch! That was last January. Science has made enormous strides since then.—Christian Register.

So Dear of Him!
She was very pretty, but not especially endowed with brains. Her escort had explained that the man behind the catcher was the umpire.
"What does he do?" she asked.
"He calls balls and strikes, and tells whether or not a man is safe at the plate."
"Oh, I see. He is there to warn the batsmen when he sees the pitcher is going to hit him with the ball. How sweetly thoughtful that is!"

Speeding Him Up
Hokus—The doctor told Guzzler he should take a drink of whiskey only before each meal.
Fokus—What is the result?
Hokus—He is now eating eight meals a day.—Town Topics.

His Reason
Rastus—So's yo kwine to jine de army. Why don't yo jine de navy instead?
Sambo—Niggah, Ah can run fastah dan Ah can swim.—Judge. ....
Foot Work
Mrs. A.—Josephine is progressing by leaps and bounds in her piano practice.
Mr. A.—I thought she couldn't make all that racket with her hands alone.

Credits Where Due
A student, coming to a hard question on his examination paper, wrote for his answer, "God only knows; I don't."
The paper came back with the following correction in the professor's handwriting, "God gets the credit, you don't."

His Guess
Mrs. Jawback—I wonder what I saw in you to admire when I married you.
Jawback—My nerve, I guess.

German Man Power Now On Down Curve

LONDON, July 30.—German man power is now on the down curve, it was learned semi-officially today. The casualties of their storm troops are especially heavy.

So far in the present fighting, the enemy has used sixty four divisions (785,000 men) from four army groups—Crown Prince Friedrich's, Crown Prince Rupprecht's, Duke Albrecht's and General Von Gallwitz' apparently drawing reserves from every part of the line.

Bridge Over Willamette Joins Marion and Polk

SALEM, July 30.—Marion and Polk counties were bound more closely together by the completion of the new bridge over the Willamette. The completion was celebrated today. The privilege of being the first person to cross the bridge was to be auctioned off with proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

Enemy Aliens Can't Be Beneficiaries

CAMP FREMONT, July 30.—"As a matter of national policy, the War Department will not permit soldiers to designate as their beneficiaries enemy aliens." The foregoing was a ruling made by the judge advocate general in reply to a query made in this division some time ago.

By another ruling of the judge advocate general, citizens of enemy alien birth now in the division cannot be interned but those soldiers concerning whose loyalty there is sufficient doubt, supported by evidence, are to be tried by general court martial.

New veterinary units assigned to this division will have as commanders the following: To 8th Train Headquarters, Lieutenant P. J. Bolender, to 8th Sanitary Train, Lieutenant C. E. Pickering, and to 8th Ammunition Train, Lieutenant Jack C. Fuller.

Food inspectors are making a rigid investigation of the garbage cans of every mess. They will report back to headquarters any shortcomings found.

The following players will represent the All-Army team against the All-Navy team at Ewing Field, August 1, for the benefit of the Red Cross: Pitchers, Riker, Levering and Crespi; catchers, Casey, Gratwick; first base, Woolems, Cole; second base, Armstrong, Sign; shortstop, Bohne; third base, Brooks, Galloway.
